

Jennifer Jiron Secretary

Jennifer Jiron has made significant contributions to the fields of education and library services throughout her 30-year career in elementary education. She has taught across various grade levels in multiple states, including NJ, PA, IN, CA, and NV. She holds a Nevada Library Media Specialist Endorsement from UNLV/CCSD RPDP, which reflects her commitment to specialized knowledge in library and media services.

For the past two decades, Jennifer has been an integral part of the Clark County School District, where she has dedicated the last eight years to serving as a Library Media Specialist. She not only excels in her role at Kenneth Divich Elementary School but also takes on additional responsibilities as a team lead and mentor teacher, providing guidance and support to new educators entering the profession.

In recognition of her expertise and leadership qualities, Jennifer was appointed to the Las Vegas-Clark County Library District Board of Trustees in 2021. In this capacity, she serves as the Secretary for the Board of Trustees and chair of the Risk Management Committee.

Jennifer earned her Bachelors degree in Elementary Education from Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania and her Masters in Integrative Teaching through the Creative Arts from Lesley University.
