

Make Your Money Work for You

Credit Union 1 and Chase are holding FREE seminars about personal money management and financial goals for teens and adults:

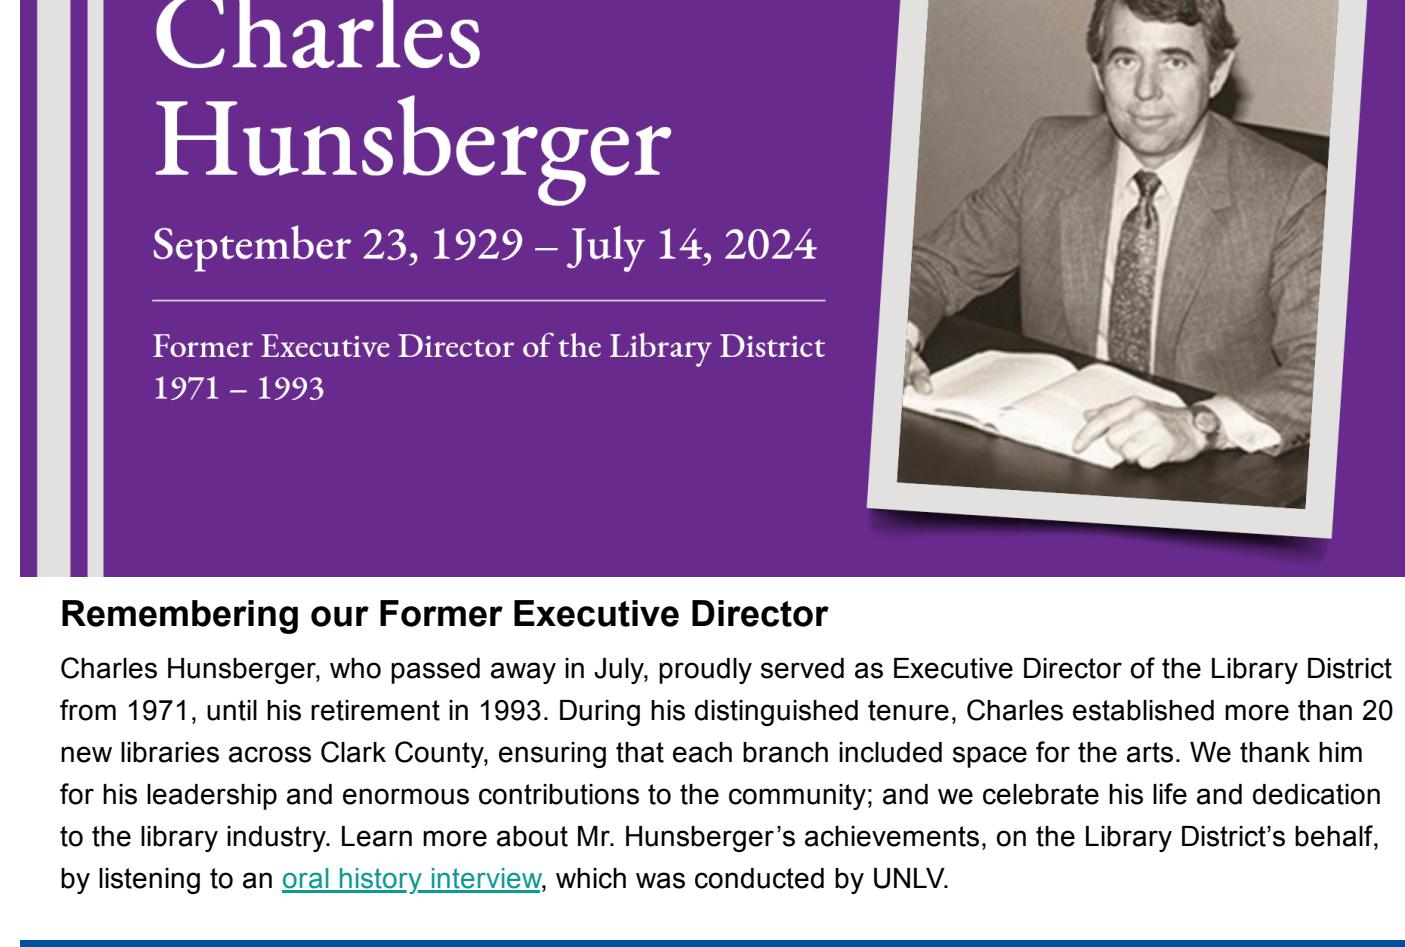

MoneyWise Academy with Credit Union 1 will take place August 9 at West Las Vegas Library and August 23 at Rainbow Library, and will cover budgeting, saving, investing, credit management, and financial planning.

Money Smart with Chase will take place August 22 at West Charleston Library, and will explore financial goals and fundamental practices for long-term investing.

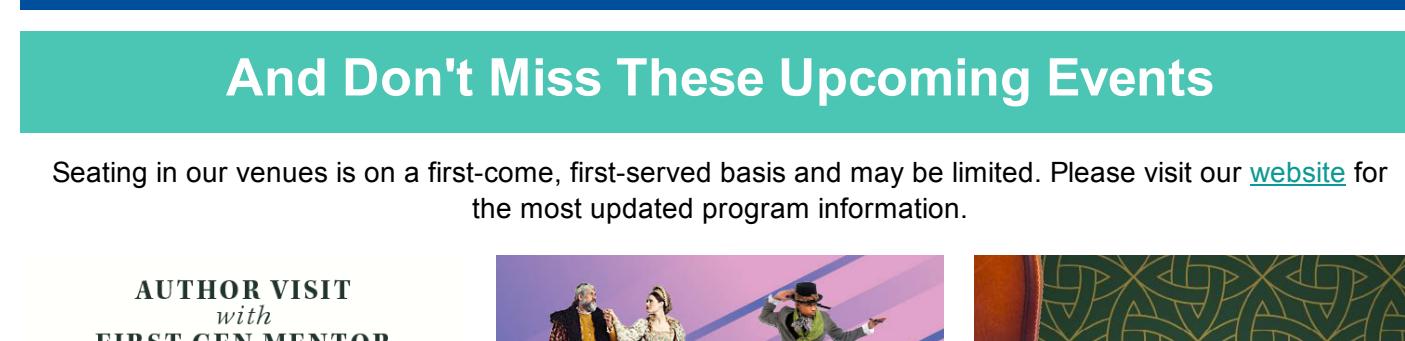

Learn Podcasting, Movie Making & Photography at the Library

The Library District offers FREE classes for teens and adults who want to learn the basics of podcasting, movie making, and photography. At AVS Crew, teens can experiment with various mediums that are available in the Best Buy Teen Tech Center, located at Clark County Library. In our Introduction to Podcasting classes (available in Spanish and English), teens and adults can learn the basics of operating podcasting equipment and accessing our podcasting spaces at East Las Vegas Library.

Remembering our Former Executive Director

Charles Hunsberger, who passed away in July, proudly served as Executive Director of the Library District from 1971, until his retirement in 1993. During his distinguished tenure, Charles established more than 20 new libraries across Clark County, ensuring that each branch included space for the arts. We thank him for his leadership and enormous contributions to the community; and we celebrate his life and dedication to the library industry. Learn more about Mr. Hunsberger's achievements, on the Library District's behalf, by listening to an oral history interview, which was conducted by UNLV.
