

Brittany Fiedler

As a born-and-raised Las Vegan, Brittany Paloma Fiedler is a proud lifelong user of the Las Vegas-Clark County Library District. She is a devoted educator who worked for the Clark County School District as a high school English teacher and middle school librarian before joining the faculty at the UNLV University Libraries.

Brittany is a tenured Teaching & Learning Librarian. She leads the Stuart & Flora Mason Undergraduate Peer Research Coach Program, teaches information literacy, and creates co-curricular learning experiences. She has published and presented extensively about better serving traditionally underrepresented students and the experiences of librarians of color. Brittany also serves as an editorial board member of the peer-reviewed, open-access journal In the Library with the Lead Pipe.

Brittany holds a Bachelor's degree in Education and a Master's degree in English literature, both from the UNLV. She also has a Master's degree in Library and Information Sciences from the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign.
